

Configuring New Locations

This outlines the processes necessary to configure a location in the database and begin pulling data